Secretary of C. D. Morgan & Co. Is Declared to Have Taken Thousands.

CASE IS MADE A MYSTERY

Haviland, on Police Books as Treasurer and Accuser, Denies Being in Firm.

New York, August 27.—Behind the errest of Alfred J. Connolly, secretary of the brokerage firm of C. D. Morgan & Co., of No. 30 Broad Street, for the alleged larceny of a check for $25, there appears to be some mystery that the police department and the District Attorney's office have not yet solved. To add to the mystery the man who is said by the police to be the complainant positively denies any connection with the case.

Connolly, who is twenty-six, lives at 731 Carroll Street, Brooklyn. He was arrested at the Broad Street office upon an order from Assistant District-Attorney Moss. by Detectives Flood and Leigh, and was taken at once to the District Attorney's office, where he was closely questioned by Mr. Moss and Assistant District Attorneys Lavelle and Du Vivier. Then he was locked up in polce headquarters, and there was a long conference between one of the men from the District Attorney's office and an official of the Carnegie Trust Company, where it was Carnegie Trust Company, where it was said the check had been cashed on said the check had been cashed on August 3.

Bigger Sum Mentioned.

It was afterward admitted that there is another charge against Connolly for the alleged appropriation of $3,200 of the firm's cash on August 1 and that the amount missing from the strong box of C. D. Morgan & Co. is much greater even than that sum. According to the detectives, Connolly confided to the assistant district attorney that he had been victimized by another man whose influence over him was strengthened by threats of exposure. To this other man, the detectives say, Connolly admits he turned over securities and cash the full amount of which is not yet known.

According to the police, the complainment in the case is "James T. Havlland, treasurer," but Mr. Zavlland, at his home at 1319 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, positively denied that he had made the charge or was connected with the firm of C. D. Morgan & Co.

The firm of C. D. Morgan & Co. was incorporated in 1908. Connolly was then a clerk in the office, but on February 8 last he married Miss May Ford, a school teacher, in the Erie Basin District, to whom he had been engaged for several years, and as a wedding present he was taken into the firm, with the title of secretary, Mrs. Connolly 's now stopping at Rockaway Beach.

FATAL PISTOL DUEL

One Dead and Another Will Die as Result of Encounter in Chuttanooga. Chattanooga, Tenn., August 26.—In a pistol duel here to-night Boyd Thompson, a young court reporter, was shot and killed and William Snyder probably will glie as a result of his injuries.

The shooting occurred on a crowded street. Charles Hensley, a lawyer of Dayton, a pedestrian, received a slight wound by a stray bullet.

The trouble is the result of an old grudge. Ten days ago Thompson fired three shots at Snyder. All the shots went wild.

In to-night's affray ten shots were fired, and a panle ensued. After Sny.

In to-night's affray ten shots were fired, and a panic ensued. After Snyder had emptied his pistol at Thompson, the latter staggered to a drug store. Snyder followed him, reloading his pistol as he ran. Thompson fell to the sidewalk, and Snyder leveled his gun at the prostrate form. Bytanders interfered, and wrested the pistol from Snyder. All three of the wounded men were hurried to a hospital, and Thompson died shortly after reaching there. There is no hope for the recovery of Snyder. He received three builets.

PROPOSES NEW LAW.

Committee on Marriage and Divorce
Makes Report to Conference.

Chattanooga, Tenn., August 26.—At the session of the Commission on Uniform State Laws now in conference here, the principal work to day was the report of the committee on marriage and divorce, including the second tentative drafts of acts on the subjects of marriages and dicenses to marry, and family desertion and nonsupport. These reports were prepared under the direction of the commissioners of uniform State laws in national conference. The longest steps in advance of existing laws attempted to be taken by the committee on marriage and divorce in its drafts of a marriage and previous that something in the matter to bans should be published, as prerequisites of a valid marriage. The object of the provision is to take the matter to a court for adjudication, as to the validity of the objection. This, at the first glance appeared revolutionary, but upon inspection will be found to be along the line of previous legislation. The committee proposing the laws, with the conference acting as a committee of the whole, are:
